

Symposium: Optimizing Care, Improving Outcomes: Pharmacist-Led Models in Oncology Care + 2026 HOPE Awards

Join us for a live 90-minute symposium exploring how optimized, pharmacist-led models of care can measurably improve oncology patient outcomes, including treatment persistence, safety, and quality of care.

Michael LeBlanc will provide the foundation for optimizing the pharmacist's role in oncology care, sharing how hybrid models and practicing to full scope delivers comprehensive care.

Liam Berrigan will present a real-world case study on innovative approaches to optimizing patient care, centralizing expertise while decentralizing access to specialists, bridging the care gap for rural patients.

Scott Edwards will discuss operationalizing practical clinical tools to improve early risk identification and standardizing assessments to enable expanded, outcomes-driven pharmacist care.
